Thought On The Seasons

*Flattered with promise of escape
From every hurtful blast,
Spring takes, O sprightly May! thy shape
Her loveliest and her last.*

*Less fair is summer riding high
In fierce solstitial power,
Less fair than when a lenient sky
Brings on her parting hour.*

*When earth repays with golden sheaves
The labours of the plough,
And ripening fruits and forest leaves
All brighten on the bough;*

*What pensive beauty autumn shows,
Before she hears the sound
Of winter rushing in, to close
The emblematic round!*

*Such be our Spring, our Summer such;
So may our Autumn blend
With hoary Winter, and Life touch,
Through heaven-born hope, her end!*

—WILLIAM WORDSWORTH.

Foreword

We have chosen as our theme "Nature and the Four Seasons." It symbolizes our journey through our four years of high school.

Fall represents our freshman year when we are new in the school; winter, our sophomore year when everyone is working hard and life is slightly dormant; spring, our junior year when everyone is waiting in anticipation for the forthcoming year. The senior year bursts out as summer does in a blaze of glory. We have attained our goal.

We had many difficult periods on our way through the seasons, but we overcame the obstacles and proceeded. Throughout the time we had the understanding and help of our teachers, parents, and friends. We especially appreciate the helpful guidance of our yearbook advisor, Mrs. Healy, without whose assistance the superior quality of this book would never have been attained.

This book contains only a small part of our trip. Though we may separate in years to come, we will all remember our high school days and keep reaching for our ultimate aim in life.

—MARCIA L. NEWELL.

Class Song

By LEE CHAMBERLIN

To the tune of "One Little Candle"

All the joys and the sorrows that we have found here

Will come back in memories;

For the teachers whose help and guidance we cherish

We'll remember all of these.

*All the friendships we've made will be dear to us
all;*

The years at Westwood High we will always recall.

So let everyone light just one little candle

That will brighten future years.

Now the time has come for parting,

And we bid a fond farewell;

Our future years are starting;

What they'll hold we can't foretell.

It is better to light just one little candle

Than to stumble in the dark,

Better far that we light just one little candle,

All we need's a tiny spark.

Now our paths separate for new lives we begin,

We each have a goal that we'll all strive to win,

So let everyone light just one little candle

That will brighten future years.

Class Poem

*As we stand on the threshold of a glorious day
Where each must embark on a separate way,
We think once more of things gone by—
Those wonderful years in Westwood High.*

*Through dreams that were fostered and goals
attained,*

Through trials and triumphs, we've character gained.

The fun that we've had, the friendships we've made—

These things are real, and they never will fade.

*The building remains: we must leave it behind,
But it's mellowed and hallowed, with living refined;*

*And we join the alumni to chorus her praise,
Support her activities, and defend her always.*

*And now as our eyes with courage do shine,
Our hearts overflow with rapture sublime;
May each have success in the fields we pursue,
And to God, home, and country be faithful and true.*

THE LOVELIEST NIGHT OF THE YEAR

Our Class Papers

Class History

After eight years of bruised knees and ice-cream cones, the Class of '56 finally entered into the young adult world of high school. Having their dreams realized, they soon discovered that, like anything else, hard work and co-operation are the basis for a firm foundation upon which success and enjoyment would be found.

A short time later when the first bit of excitement was over, the class assembled for a business meeting at which the officers for the year were elected. Charles Taylor, Jack Lincoln, Judy Crosby, and Lee Chamberlin, with the help of the advisors, Miss Burns, Miss Johnson, and Mr. Marshall, tried to keep the class running smoothly.

Our first venture into the entertainment field was the production of "The Clock Beats You" presented at an assembly of the school. The enthusiasm and hard work were almost lost as we looked up at the audience of upperclassmen. In spite of the odds against us we lived through our first ordeal.

During the course of the year we welcomed Barbara Harris, Cathy Kelley, Anne Fletcher, and Janice McLaughlin to the class. Kenny Seymour, Judy Eaton, and Judy Garland were the few classmates that were obligated to leave us.

The Valentine's Dance was the first dance that the class was allowed to sponsor; we were very proud of ourselves as the compliments came back to the class.

We returned to Westwood High School as sophomores the following year, with the idea that we were old hands. The first business meeting of the year was dedicated to the election of class officers; the class chose Charles Taylor, Thomas Mitchell, Lee Chamberlain, and Anne Fletcher. Miss Henderson and Mrs. Mealy counseled us through this year. Also at this meeting we ordered our class rings which have the town emblem and the year that we would graduate on them. The Harvest Hop was planned and was to be presented in the fall of the year.

We were very proud of ourselves as we introduced a minister, a priest, and a rabbi to speak at our Thanksgiving assembly. Mr. Chase said that our assembly had been the most appropriate in years!

The Music Makers supplied the rhythm at the "Shamrock Shuffle." A king and queen were chosen for the most original style of socks. The following week Bob Marvin was to play "Arthur" in our assembly, "The Friends of Arthur Godfrey." Every student in the class participated in one way or another; consequently, it turned out very well.

Tell me, will any member of the class forget the day our class took a trip to Green Harbor? Do any of you remember the terrible sunburns we had? I still can't understand how some people were sunburned on only one side.

Sandra MacDonald and Bob Sanders joined the class and helped to take the places of Jack Massarelli, Florence Johnson, Lee Emmett, Leslie Hilton, and Ned Staples, who left the class unexpectedly.

The following year we became juniors; we now realized that our seasonal journey through high school was waning, much to our regret.

The class officers selected for this year were Charles Taylor, Thomas Mitchell, Doris Ritter, and Anne Fletcher. Mr. Wallace and Miss Williams did their utmost to control the class through all its pro's and con's.

Will Fletcher and the Meltones furnished the music at the victorious football dance named and dedicated for our spirited football team. The "Wolverine Wobble" was decorated in green and white to represent our school colors. We sponsored a new type of dance called the Moon Beau movie dance.

Our assemblies this year consisted of representatives of General Electric demonstrating jet turbines and intricate sound-wave mechanisms, and an Armistice Day assembly to which we invited veterans from World War I, World War II, and Korea.

The biggest event this year was the planning and presentation of the Prom. Traditionally each year it is a junior class privilege to name and decorate for the prom. "The Loveliest Night of the Year" was the name for our prom. The decorations consisted of an indoor waterfall, an archway covered with flowers, and streamers to complete what we consider was the best prom Westwood High has ever seen.

This year we obtained five new members: Beryl Brown, Nancy Keating, John Lawlor, Donald Jones, and Robert Mazzola. We lost a few prominent members of our class, namely, Doug Speare, Craig Jennings, and David Deane.

At long last we are seniors. "Seniors"—what a thrilling word this is to us!

We elected class officers for our final year. Charles Taylor, Donald Jones, Doris Ritter, and Anne Fletcher were the ones picked to lead us through our last and final year. Charles Taylor, who is so well liked by everyone, has been president of the class for six consecutive years; this is about the highest honor a single classmate can have.

Our fast and fiery year started with a dance called "The Kick Off," a regular record hop. Greg Finn supplied us with records and record player; he also gave records as presents to winners of elimination dances.

The students joined together and collected money from Islington and Westwood for the publishing of our yearbook. With the help of our immediate supervisor, Mrs. Healy, we have been able to publish one of the most spectacular yearbooks in Westwood High's history.

John Neyland's band played at the senior dance, "Rebound Rock," which was in honor of the basketball players.

Lee Chamberlin and Charles Taylor spoke at an assembly about their trip to Europe, which had been awarded to them by the American Field Service Program. We were also very fortunate to have the American Field Service send us a German boy, Wolfgang Jabs, to join our class and its activities. We are all very proud of Wolfgang and the American Field Service for having such a wonderful exchange-student program.

With the guidance of Miss Burns we produced the senior play, "Time Out For Ginger," which proved to be very entertaining and successful.

We are sorry to say that Eddie Bill, Jean Manimon, Nancy Hunt, Marie Ianetta, Diana Del 'Etoile, and Kenny Deane had to leave us in our final year; but we were fortunate to have Wolfgang Jabs, Pat Foley, Doris Marchant, and Patric Murray join us.

With hard work and capable advising from Miss Burns and Mr. Pierce, we accomplished our goal by completing our senior year.

Class Prophecy

I had a dream one night. Do you remember how vivid some of your dreams have been? This one of mine was an extraordinary one, for in it I passed over oceans and continents. I looked into strange lands of vernal splendor and arid deserts. I sat on mountain tops and rode in planes. The most amazing thing was that in every country I visited I saw my own classmates busy at work. I shall tell it to you just as I dreamed it.

My plane settles down in foggy England where in a huge, imposing edifice we find nurses BERYL BROWN and JUDY BARNES, two trim-looking young women, employed at the HELEN FITZPATRICK Nursing Home, the only one of its kind in England. In a dim corner of the immense blue room, DONALD JONES, world's most upcoming politician, works busily with his cute and efficient secretary, JUDY CROSBY.

In a flash I found myself in Paris, peering into the most talked-about night club in the world, the Moulin Bleu. There the beautiful and talented singer and dancer SHIRLEY PROSSER has an engagement for fourteen weeks. Behind the small green but compact cocktail bar, a jovial young man with dashing blond hair, PATRIC MURRAY, an enterprising youth, is busy mixing soft drinks.

From the peak of the Brenner Pass, I looked down on a Swiss village. There the fabulous interpreter of renowned fame, pert MARILYN MASON, lives. She converses in French and Italian over the PAUL GIRLING intercom. This huge machine weighs only 2 grams but was made to develop friendly relations with the mad people of the moon and also to give the world more zip and zim.

In colorful Spain the handsome but notorious bull fighter, PAUL DUVAL, intrigues the blood-thirsty audiences every afternoon. On the side he is a pharmacist in Madrid. His constant helper, PATRICIA BEYER, assists him in throwing the bull.

Doing secret work for the German Bureau of Investigation is guess who? Yes. That jolly, genial character WOLFGANG JABS is the one I mean. Typing up secret reports for him are CAROL AYLWARD and PAULINE FRECHETTE. In making these reports for him, they relieve him of many duties.

In sunny Italy I visited the home of that great artist JACKIE WOODING. Pert JANICE McGLAUFILIN and peppy ANN MURPHY annually display her work at the different halls throughout the famous city of Rome, billing her as greater than Van Gogh.

Deep in the African Jungle where the gooly-gooly people live, are two professors, both brains when it comes to readin' and rightin'—MARCIA NEWELL and CAROL TOLENTINO. In this remote section of the jungle these two brave women try in vain to teach the darkies how to play the piano. I know they will not give up and I wish them luck in their field. The most recent but unusual member of the tribe, whom I'm sure you all know, is JACK LINCOLN. Upon request of the United States he has been trying to find out how these cannibals eat.

World famous and illustrious talkers, two people whom everyone knows well, are ROBERT MARVIN, the best guide around these here parts, and JOYCE LAMOTTE, fabulous newspaper editor. They have been in Egypt now for the past three years trying to sell an old abandoned tomb of a famous mule named Francis. So far the pair have had nothing but one failure after another. Will someone please go to the land of the pharoahs and purchase it?

After he joined the Arabian Native Legion, a man with outstanding looks has been in the infirmary every single day, Yes, you must know whom I mean. You are right; it is GEORGE LAPHAM. I hope I didn't lead you to believe he is ill. On the contrary, LEE CHAMBERLIN, the head nurse is on duty. This popular miss has worked in the portable infirmary on the desert for many years. Assisting her are two sparkling and helpful girls, DONNA WHEELER and FRED-DIE MILLER. These two nurses operate on the brown camels. Meanwhile back on the farm we find CAROLE MILLER, petite young thing, in the midst of a bunch of Arab women teaching them the proper ways to use judo.

Ever since the Iron Curtain has been lifted, two wonderful actors, whose outstanding talent was recognized by those at Westwood High School, VERNICE VAN HAM and MAYBELLE WALLIN, entertain the now free world. They have produced 7,500 plays in which they starred and are still rarin' to go.

On Waikiki in Hawaii that versatile man, MICHAEL FRUCCI, owns a successful businessman's club called what else but "Mike's." Two of his outstanding dancers are SHEILA MURRAY and SANDY MacDONALD. The local nurses on duty are SUE JOHNSON and DORIS DEVITT. Also in Hawaii ANN MORIN owns a hospital where many famous doctors work.

Ever since Iceland has melted, the greatest forest ranger of them all, RONALD CORKUM, has preserved the domesticated life and kept it up to par. In another remote portion of the small green island, three local girls have set up a deer hospital. Although the island is remote, BRENDA ALBEE, PAT FOLEY, and PAULA CLEMENT have done much for the animals.

In the middle of the peaceful ocean, the Pacific, that beautiful model, ANNE FLETCHER, whose face has adorned many newspapers and magazines, conducts a charm school. On the boat away from everything, ANN, along with JUDIE SMITH and SONJA JANSON, has made a success of all the women who have taken the course. One may sign up for the course any day now.

Teaching in smoggy California at the U. P. P. P. (University of Professional Pool Players), PAUL HENNESSEY, Dean of Men, and BETH SLAMIN, Professor of Women, have helped countless hundreds—maybe billions—to play pool. Since the course runs for fifteen years, the many students may take the course off and on.

After the Republidems moved the capital to the State of Washington, CHARLIE TAYLOR was elected to be president of the world. Congresswomen CARROLL PUGH and CAROLE COMPTON have been in the legislative building for over 10 months and like it very much.

Local Oil Tycoon and Indian wrestler, the best dressed boy around, TOM E. MITCHELL, has struck oil for the tenth time this week. In one of his many local offices behind imposing bags of gold sit his three secretaries. CATHERINE KELLEY, CARLA KEITH, and NANCY KEATING count the gold in the bags daily.

The famous chain stores of HARRIS AND HARRIS, LAURA AND BARBARA, has just opened in Oklahoma. This famous sporting goods store has attracted more people than Filene's basement. Have you been in one of their stores lately?

Another LASALLE factory has sprung up in Chicago. My Goodness! Those two boys really get going, don't they? DON FOSTER, who had the lead in many of the plays on Broadway, and JOHN FIELD, famed wit and raconteur, are the owners. The only trouble with the cars is that they don't seem to keep going after they are started. Maybe sometime in the future these boys will think of some way for the cars to run right.

Enticing many people is the famous dancing school of JOHN LAWLOR. The steps he teaches are a modified version of the popular "fag." His energetic partners in dance are ANN MILLIGAN and LINDA STEINMETZ. This trio has helped many people to overcome shyness.

The world's most eligible bachelor, greatest football hero of our time, TOM L. MITCHELL, has travelled the world over. Women all over the world fall at his feet. Don't stop now, girls, he is just beginning to like it.

The small business office of NICHOLAS, MARCHANT, HOWARD AND FREITAS is doing wonders in developing a new typewriter. This new machine will cut down the exercises on the fingers at least 99%.

In Pennsylvania those two famous stars of the Westwood Celtics, ROY DAVIS and PHIL DALY, practice every day. The famous song writer JOE CIRELLO gave them a place to play when they come down to Philadelphia. The assistant-to-the-assistant, WILLIAM EMSWILER, gives them special tips on how to play.

That cute boy, BOB SANDERS, has a winter resort in Florida which is opened only in the summer. Helping to make it a success is the warm humor of DORIS RITTER. She is the friendly cigarette girl who takes your picture.

In Georgia that famous music overseer, ROBIN WATSON, has retired on a little farm outside of Atlanta. She has also written quite a few books. The most famous is "Come Back With the Wind."

Last, but by no means least, we see just boarding his rocket ship, the world egg man, STANLEY ROMAINE. STANLEY delivers the eggs on an airlift basis. In the back of the jet, black-haired BOB MAZZOLA assists the egg man by sorting the eggs after the hens lay them. If I am not too personal, STANLEY, tell me what would happen if the hens go out on strike.

So I dreamed. But somehow I feel that this really, really will happen—CHARLIE TAYLOR, President of the world; MARCIA NEWELL, teaching in Africa; and of course, STANLEY delivering eggs.

—CAROLE COMPTON.

NAHATAN NEWS

The school newspaper has a "new look" and up-to-date news. Many thanks go to the co-editors Joyce La-Motte and Robin Watson and the conscientious staff for their much-appreciated effort in making the Nahatan News an outstanding school newspaper.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Because of Mr. Markarian's experienced directing, the Girls' Glee Club performed exceptionally well at the Christmas and spring concerts. We wish to thank the accomplished pianist, Betty Swist, for her patience with the group.

DRIVER EDUCATION

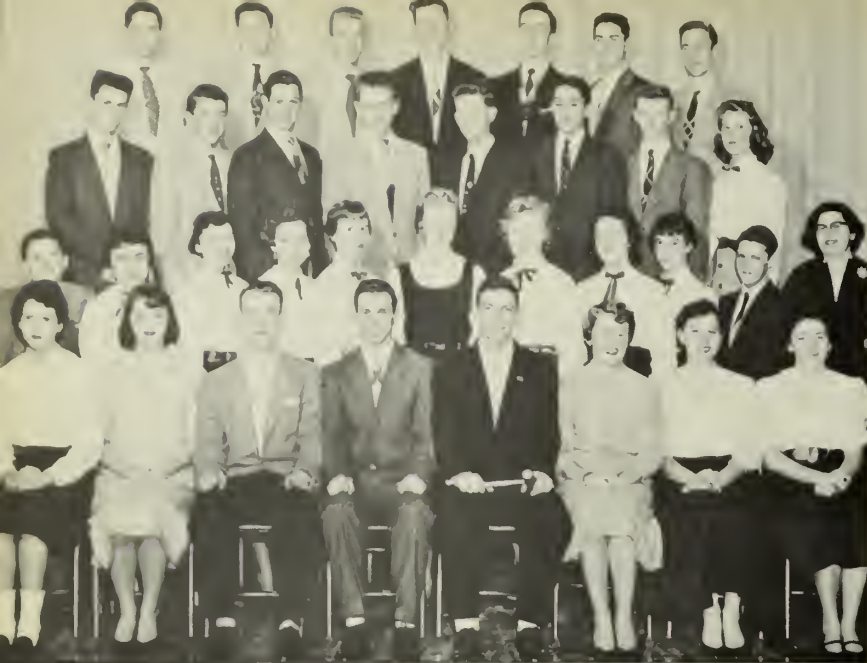

Many juniors and seniors have been taught to drive safely and politely over the highways by Mr. Joseph Atchue and Mr. Alexander Marshall, Jr., who were in charge of the driver-education program this year.

The 1955 Wolverines were coached by Mr. John Hughes and Mr. William Davis. It was Coach Hughes' first season at Westwood, and he gained great popularity with the team and the school.

Because of lack of experience and numerous injuries, it was a poor year for the team; however, the season's record of 1-6-1 in no way indicates the enthusiasm and spirit that was shown by the boys.

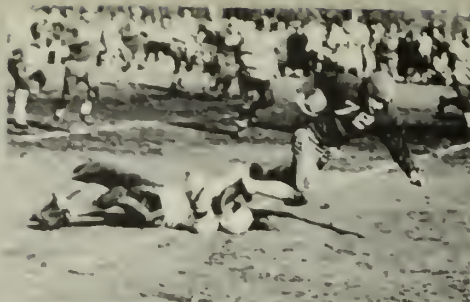

In the final game of the Medfield series, Westwood lost in a tight gridiron clash—13 to 6.
